

Next generation PF night splint

- All-night comfort • Fully adjustable • Low-profile design

D2™ PF Night Splint features a pivoting dorsal shell and adjustable dynamic cord to help gently stretch the plantar fascia and calf musculature. In seconds, you can easily adjust the amount of stretch to ensure a level of comfort that allows all-night wear. The D2's dorsal shell and soft bottom also promote greater comfort and safety while walking, allowing you to wear it both at rest and at night to help speed recovery.

What makes the D2 better?

Gradual progression Recognizing how uncomfortable night splints can be to wear all night, AliMed worked with healthcare professionals to develop a solution that would succeed where other splints have failed. Traditional splints place the foot into a 90° position and require the user to tolerate this aggressive stretch for the entire night, often leading to the splint being removed during the night or not put on at all.

The D2 Night Splint overcomes these issues by allowing a more gradual stretch at first, and progressing as tolerance increases. The hinged shell and stretch cord allow for some normal flexing of the foot during sleep, but return foot to "stretch" position when muscles relax. This freedom of movement is key to achieving greater comfort and relief from PF pain.

Easy progress monitoring Numbered cord hooks permit simple adjustment of the stretch force. This, along with the range of motion indicator, allows for easy monitoring of your progress.

Washable padded liner wicks moisture, promoting dry skin and limiting heat build-up. Wide, plush neoprene straps contour to fit your foot and calf. Includes patient progress sheet along with Use and Care guide. Two sizes ensure a correct fit.
