

Bed Danger Zones

Patients are injured every day by getting caught, trapped, entangled or strangled in hospital beds.

While bed rails help create a supportive sleeping environment...

Aid in turning and repositioning patients

Provide a handhold when patients get into or out of bed

Give a feeling of comfort and security

Reduce the risk of patients falling out of bed they can also create danger zones for entrapment injuries.

DANGER ZONES

Gap between the mattress and headboard

Gap between the mattress and footboard

Gap between the mattress and side rails

HELP REDUCE DANGER ZONES BY:

- Using a proper size mattress to reduce gaps between it and the bed rail
- Using bed bolsters, positioning wedges, or bed stuffers
- Monitoring patients frequently
